

How to Tie a Quick Release Slip Knot

1. Wrap the end of the lead rope around a secure rail.
2. Wrap the loose end of the lead rope back over the part of the rope between the rail and the rest of the halter, forming a circle.
3. Reach your fingers through the circle, and grasp a section of lead rope.
4. Pull that section of lead rope back through the circle, forming a loop and pulling until the knot is tight.
5. To secure the knot, slip the loose end of the lead rope through the loop (but don't pull it tight).
6. To release the knot, remove the loose end of the lead rope from the loop and pull. The knot should come undone quickly and easily.
